

SUPERHEROES:
THE POWER WITHIN

A SUPER
NIGHT FOR BANNER!

THE BANNER SCHOOL 31ST ANNUAL AUCTION

ENJOY!

THE NISENFELD FAMILY

Dear Friends,

They come from far and wide - from fictional places such as Forest Hills; Gotham City; Themyscira; Midway City; or Metropolis. They come each with a set of super skills combining unparalleled strength with other unique abilities - leaping over tall buildings with a single bound, gliding, shooting webs to swing from tower to tower, breathing underwater or possessing night or x-ray vision. They come to life in comic books, movies and television, and we cheer for them and their determination to do good deeds. Sometimes, we even dress in costume to briefly be them! They are the Superheroes!

We recognize and enjoy these pop-culture Superheroes but the Powers Within that they possess pale in comparison to those of the heroes who surround us in life. We need only look to the Banner community to find our own heroes. From our founder Elinor Miller who saw her vision for The Banner School become a reality through her determination and hard work; to the founding families whose faith in the program led them to enroll their children in the early years; to each teacher who has taught within Banner's classrooms; to the parents, family members and friends who have volunteered their time, their energy, their skills, or their resources in support of the school - they are Banner's heroes. Commissioner Gordon once said to Batman - "You are going to make a difference. A lot of times, it won't be huge, it won't be visible even. But it will matter just the same." Such can be said to Banner's heroes- past, present and future. Your efforts and generosity are a powerful force that sustains and enriches the School. You are our heroes.

During the past few weeks, students have discussed in classes what makes a hero and what superpower they each possess or wish to possess. The answers that they wrote for their art project have been a delight to read for they ranged from "I can tame a unicorn," to "invisibility" to "being happy all the time." We know that every child has a power - a light within, and the nurturing and challenging environment at Banner helps each student discover that light - that passion for himself or herself. Their academic accomplishments; the values of compassion, integrity, responsibility, civility, leadership, empathy and service that they display each day; and the confidence that they show in the classroom, on the stage and on the court, makes Banner's students our heroes.

Thank you to all of the heroes who join us tonight and who grace Banner's campus each day. You are supporting a super school, a super student body, a super faculty and staff and we are super grateful for your generosity.

My thanks to all,

Gail A. Dobay
Head of School

All claims for a refund, credit, or substitution must be made within one year of auction date.

7. The silent auction will be closed in a phased manner. Each category will be announced prior to closing. The bidder may check the bid sheet on the table at the close of the silent auction to see if they are the winning bidder. In the event of a dispute, an auction official shall act as the final authority and shall determine the winning bidder. This decision will be final.
8. The Live Auction will begin when the silent auction is complete. All Live Auction items will be displayed during the Silent Auction. Esther Wojcicki—"Woj" to her many friends and admirers—is famous for three things: teaching a high school class that has changed the lives of thousands of kids, inspiring Silicon Valley legends like Steve Jobs, and raising three daughters who have each become famously successful. What do these three accomplishments have in common? They're the result of TRICK, Woj's secret to raising successful people: Trust, Respect, Independence, Collaboration, and Kindness. Simple lessons, but the results are radical. Wojcicki's methods are the opposite of helicopter parenting. As we face an epidemic of parental anxiety, Woj is here to say: relax. Talk to infants as if they are adults. Allow teenagers to pick projects that relate to the real world and their own passions, and let them figure out how to complete them. Above all, let your child lead. How to Raise Successful People offers essential lessons for raising, educating, and managing people to their highest potential. It's the second day of February. Snow covers the field and the wind blows cold, but the Groundhog has a job to do. Will spring be early? Or will spring be late? When the Groundhog doesn't see his shadow, it's clear spring will be here soon. But wait! Is that a red flower sticking through the snow? "Spring is here now!" is the best prediction the Groundhog has ever made! All the Groundhog's friends rejoice . . . except one. Will one grouch turn spring back into winter? First published in 1959, this humorous tale from the creator of Harold and the Purple Crayon reminds us that sometimes it doesn't matter what you're celebrating as much as who you're celebrating with. 1312. "ROY G. BIV: An Exceedingly Surprising Book About Color"

Color is all around us every day. We use it to interpret the world—red means stop, blue means water, orange means construction. But it is also written into our metaphors, of speech and thought alike: yellow means cowardice; green means envy—unless you're in Germany, where yellow means envy, and you can be "beat up green and yellow." Jude Stewart, a design expert and writer, digs into this rich subject with gusto. What color is the universe? We might say it's black, but astrophysicists think it might be turquoise. Unless it's beige. To read about color from Jude Stewart is to unlock a whole different way of looking at the world around us—and bringing it all vividly to life. ROY G. BIV is a reference and inspiration for designers and artists, as well as a unique, beautiful, and irresistible book for just about anyone.
